The News.

The mails and telegraph bring us accounts of the most enthusiastic demonstrations of joy, throughout the country, upon the occasion of the Atlantic Telegraph celebration. The telegraph wires being out of order, yesterday, we have but a meagre report this morning.

A terrible accident occurred at Rochester, N. Y., on the evening of the 17th, by the explosion of a mortar, by which one man was instantly killed and a number of others injured — A fire also occurred there, destroying property valued at $250,000.

A barn was burned on the same night, near Brighton, O., in which seventy-six cows perished.

The particulars of a terrible accident on the Lake, by which three fishermen, from this city, were lost, will be found in our local columns.

We have some items of news from Utah. All the Mormons who were able had returned from Provo. BRIGHAM YOUNG had shut himself up under a strong guard, fearing assassination.—Gen. JOHNSTON was contemplating making preparations to go into winter quarters.

The U. S. steam frigate Niagara, Capt. HUDSON, arrived at New York yesterday, and was greeted with a national salute and other appropriate demonstrations.

PROPOSITION FOR A NATIONAL JUBILEE.—A telegraphic despatch from Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 14th, signed "NEIL S. BROWN, Chairman of Committee," announces that at a large meeting of citizens, on Friday night, a committee was appointed to request President BUCHANAN to issue his proclamation to appoint a general jubilee in honor of the Atlantic telegraph, and to correspond with committees in other cities with a view to united action.

MORTALITY OF CHILDREN IN NEW YORK.—For the week ending Saturday, 695 deaths occurred in New York city, of whom 527 were children of ten years and under. The chief diseases were consumption 54, cholera infantum 172, and marasmus 54. There were 19 deaths from violent causes, including 8 suicides and 9 drowned. As compared with the previous week, the increase was 16.

The English-Buchanan Letter.

Did William H. English read, at the late Convention in his district by which he was renominated, a letter, or part of a letter, from President Buchanan, inditing and commending him substantially in the terms of that which we printed some days since? The question is one of fact, and not to be put aside by abuse nor dodged by quibbles. We have just received a letter dated "Jeffersonville, Ind., August 9, 1858," written just after the close of the Convention, and signed William G. Proctor, an attendant at that Convention, who, in utter unconsciousness of all the pother about that letter, writes as follows:

* * * "The hero of the day read us some extracts from letters over the signature of James Buchanan, in which the President said that naught but the most kindly feelings existed in his heart toward him (English); that he regarded him as a true friend of his Administration; that, if he (Buchanan) were a voter of the district and possessing a thousand votes, all would be cast for him. Besides, he said that English's recent course in the councils of his country would give him a name that would be proudly recorded in American history."

Can any man doubt after this that the letter exists—that the President is its author—that it was read, wholly or in part, by English to certain delegates to secure his renomination—and that, if there be any forgery in the promises, English is the forger? But we do not suppose there is any. We challenge English to deny that a letter, or a part of a letter, from the President, was read by him to delegates attending the nominating Convention; and if he admits the existence of the letter, but says it has been garbled, we challenge him to publish the letter he did read. Let us have the letter!

The "Weak" Administration.

Mr. Fred. P. Stanton, while Secretary for the Territory of Kansas, received a letter from Mr. Bigler, U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania, who had recently returned from a tour of political observation in Kansas. This letter was dated Clearfield, Pa., Aug. 14, 1857, and contains the following significant passage:

"Make my special regards to Gov. Walker, and say to him that he has the popular heart with him throughout the entire country, except only the extreme South. Should his programme succeed, he will have the most enviable prominence of any man in the nation. The Administration is a little weak at the knees, and winces under the Southern thunder, but they must stand up to the work."

Alas! the Administration was not "a little" but a good deal "weak at the knees," and not only "winced under the Southern thunder," but actually fell on those weak knees before it. And poor Bigler! his "knees" stood the ordeal no better than Old Buck's! Four months after the above was written, Buchanan had thrown Walker and Popular Sovereignty overboard and gone in for the Lecompton offspring of fraudulent registries and bogus elections, with Bigler pettifogging its desperate cause in the Senate. Pennsylvania will make these folks wish they had cared less for "Southern thunder" before they get through next October!

DEATH OF CAPTAIN BENJAMIN SMEAD.—It is our painful duty to announce the death of the venerable Capt. Smead, the veteran Printer — He died on the 8th inst., at the residence of his grandson, T. G. Swart, in this village. He was eighty-three years old, probably the oldest printer in New York, having commenced the business in 1792. He was the former editor and proprietor of this paper, having commenced his publication in 1816.

We shall endeavor to lay before our readers next week a short memoir of his life and services, dictated in part by himself.—Steuben Advocate.

Capt. Smead was an officer of the U. S. Army during the war of 1812. He had previously printed a paper in Vermont, at Bennington, we believe. Peace left him, as it did many others without occupation and without means. He came to work as a Journeyman Compositor, upon the Albany Argus, in the winter of 1816, when and where we made his acquaintance. Capt. Smead, tall and graceful, used to walk and stand with a martial air and military precision. "A1 case," in a flowing morning gown, he was "the observed of all observers." The Captain found a solace from the cares of adversity, in music.—His Flute and Gamut were the companions of his every leisure hour.—Albany Eve. Journal.

DANGEROUS ILLNESS OF MRS HARRISON.—We learned last evening that MRS. HARRISON, widow of President Harrison, was not expected to live, and may have died during the night. She is at the residence of Hon. J. Scott Harrison, about twenty miles from the city. Mrs. H. has been in such an enfeebled condition for a long time, that the fact that the "old log cabin," her homestead, was burned to the ground, has not been communicated to her.—Cincinnati Gazette, Aug. 17th.

Later from Europe—Arrival of the Saxonia.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.

The steamship Saxonia arrived this evening from Hamburg and Southampton 4th inst. The Africa arrived out on the 2d.

Parliament was prorogued by commission on the 24.

Her Majesty's message, since the session, has been productive of many important measures.—Her Majesty looks with confidence to the preservation of general peace. She trusts that the labors of the Paris Conference may lead to a satisfactory solution of the questions referred to them. Allusion to the gallantry and devotedness of the troops in India, and hopes that those efforts have generally so far been crowned with success, that the revolt may be speedily suppressed. She has given willing consent to the bills transferring the government of India to her direct authority, and hopes by a just and impartial administration of the law, to secure its advantages to her race and creed.

The Queen thanks the Commissioners for the judicious liberality with which they have provided for the exigencies for the public service.

The rest of the report is devoted to local matters.

Parliament was then prorogued until October 19th.

The Queen's message is attacked by the Times in severe terms, which expresses unaffected thankfulness that Her Majesty's lips had not been insulted with its utterance.

There had been received from Australia $2,680,000 in specie.

Fuad Pasha was expected in London, to negotiate a Turkish loan with Rothschild and Baring. Chili is also about to raise a loan.

Arrangements to lay the Red Sea Cable are complete.

Upwards of a dozen vessels had foundered in the North Sea gale, including three steamers.

Ismael Pasha, Ottoman Commissioner, had arrived at Jeddah.

France and England have come to and understanding in reference to the recent horrible events at Jeddah. All offenders will be punished, irrespective of rank, and indemnities be payable by the town people who have had any hand in the massacre, to all injured persons. The Emperor at the fetes will grant pardon to all offenders connected with the press.

The recent battle between the Turks and Christians on the frontier, is said to have been sanguinary.

The Christians were victors at all the points. The Turks rallied near Kabarcea, and bombarded and destroyed the village, and drove the Christians through the Austrian frontier.

Sir Colin Campbell has ordered the troops in cantonments until after the rainy season.

The amnesty terminates on the 1st of Sept.

The Princess of Jhaus had been killed.

The commercial intelligence had been anticipated.

The English funds were firm. Consols on Tuesday: 96⅜@¾ for money, and 96¼ for the 7th September.

RAPID DECREASE OF DEMOCRATS.—At the recent election in Kansas, the Oxford precinct which, when Candlebox Calhoun had the footing of the returns, gave nearly eighteen hundred votes, stood as follows:

For the English Bill	16
Against "	13
Total	29

This is an unhealthy season in Kansas; but this astonishing mortality, and all in the Democratic party, is unparalleled! But it is not confined to Oxford alone. Shawnee, which gave eight hundred majority at Calhoun's command, only a year ago, now foots up thus:

For the English Bill	41
Against	80

Here is a decrease of Democratic strength that needs explanation. The "eager" cannot have shaken so many people out of their homes in so short a time. But, seriously, what a commentary are these facts on the most important incidents of Kansas history.—Portage City Record.

TENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, INDIANA.—In the 10th Congressional District of Indiana, Charles Case, the present incumbent, has been nominated for re-election by the Republicans.—Thomas G. Harrie, of Elkhart, was his only competitor in the Convention. Mr Case has a clear, honorable record, and his re-nomination was demanded, both by policy and justice, to a faithful public servant.—Chicago Press & Tribune.

FIRE—SEVEN HORSES CONSUMED!—The large barn belonging to the tavern at Ives Grove, was, we learn, struck by lightning last evening and entirely consumed, with its contents, among which were seven horses. The fire did not arouse the inmates of the house, until the barn was nearly consumed. We could not ascertain the amount of the loss.—Racine News, 18th.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that a young man named Wilson, was struck by lightning and instantly killed in Raymond on Saturday last.—He was passing from the barn to the house, when he was prostrated. There was not a mark upon his person. He was about eighteen years of age.—Racine News, Aug. 17th.

FROM SAN JUAN DEL NORTE.—Late reports from San Jual del Norte, received at Aspinwall, state that the Nicaraguan Government was in favor of M. Belly's canal plan, in preference to those proposed by Commodore Vanderbilt, and Messrs. Webster and Allen. It was said that Commodore Vanderbilt's $100,000 in cash was not sufficient to impress the Nicaraguan cabinet with effect towards him.

THE WORLD STILL MOVES.—The supposed great wonder and miracle of the 19th century, the Atlantic Cable, has scarcely attained an ultimate completion, ere the world is startled by another invention, through whose agency as many benefits will arise, if accessed, as even the Great Atlantic Cable. Mr. L.S. Hill, of N.Y. State, has just introduced a means by which light or heat can be produced at less than one-fifth the expense attending the use of either gas or coal. Mr. H. calls his inventions "air-light," and is confident that with a five dollar machine the requisite light about a house, and heat for cooking, can be cheaply and safely produced.—If the invention is what he claims, but few improvements can excel it in point of utility.

NUMBER OF GERMANS IN PHILADELPHIA.—The German population in Philadelphia at the present time, says the Inquirer, is estimated by those most conversant with it at eighty thousand souls. About one half have arrived in this country since the revolutions in Europe of 1848. About ten thousand of the number are voters, and over one thousand more have taken the preliminary steps in order to become naturalized. A large portion of this number will be voters in the Fall. There are twenty-one German religious societies in Philadelphia. Of these, three are Catholics, five are Lutheran, three Reformed German, one Baptist, one Methodist, seven synagogues, and one Free Thinkers' Association.

A MUSICAL CAT.—A few mornings ago the wife of a tradesman, in Bridge street, arose at six o'clock, and was rather surprised to hear the notes of a pianoforte. She proceeded to the sitting-room, but found no pianist there. The housewife had scarcely left the room ere the playing again commenced, and was even louder than before. She most cautiously retraced her steps, and peering through the half-opened door, to her great astonishment beheld the cat (apparently much pleased,) gracefully striking the notes of the piano with his hind legs resting on a chair in front of the instrument.—Nottingham, (Eng.) Journal.

☞ A late Parisian consists in making a parasol so that it can be folded in the form of a fan, instead of folding it in the common manner. A small piece of brass is attached to the end of the parasol, and on the two sides of this plate two other plates are hinged. To these latter the ribs of one half of each plate of the parasol are secured, by joints which only allow them to move in the same plane of the plate. The two sides of the parasol fold together like a fan, and the shank or handle is a jointed to fold between the two in the usual manner.

☞ James Gay—who killed James Price's son and wounded James Price—has just been acquitted in the Clark county, Ky., court, where he was tried for murder, and defended by nine lawyers, the prosecution having only five. The quarrel arose from a piece written by Mr. Price the elder's wife, and published in the Ohio Farmer, ridiculing James Gay and his wife and their farming and housekeeping.

The Charter Convention.

SECOND DAY.

Yesterday morning, pursuant to adjournment, the Delegates to the Convention to amend and revise the City Charter and the amendments thereto, assembled at the Common Council rooms Hon. A. G. MILLER, President, called the Convention to order at 11 o'clock. The clerk of the Convention, Mr. P. KELLEY, read the proceedings of the previous meeting, which, after being slightly amended, were concurred in. In compliance with a resolution adopted on Monday, the President appointed the following gentlemen as members of the committee in addition to the Chairman who was appointed by the Convention, to revise the City Charter and amendments, and report the same to the Convention.

A. G. MILLER, Chairman, Seventh Ward,
W. H. JACOBS, First Ward.
FRANCIS HERRICHMAN, Second Ward.
J. B. CROSS, Third Ward.
JONATHAN TAYLOR, Fourth Ward.
CHAS. H. LARRIN, Fifth Ward.
LEANDER COMSTOCK, Sixth Ward.
MITCHELL STEEVER, Eighth Ward.
SAMUEL BROWN, Ninth Ward.

A motion relative to time occupied by each speaker, was laid upon the table.

Mr. STEEVER moved that the names of persons making motions, be omitted by the clerk in making his report, so that wrong names might not be attached to motions made by other members, as was the case in the minutes just read by the clerk. After some discussion the motion was withdrawn.

Mr. STEEVER then moved that the convention adjourn subject to the call of the President, when the committee was ready to report.

Mr. MCGARRY said he had presented a resolution at the last meeting, which was now on the table, and would take precedence of that made by the gentleman from the Eighth Ward.

The President remarked that he was about to introduce that resolution as a matter of order.

Mr. MCGARRY'S resolution was in substance that the convention is opposed to all that is known as "amendments" to the City Charter, and that the committee be instructed to take up the old Charter as it was in 1852, and amend it as they saw fit, but have nothing to do with the amendments thereto.

Mr. MCGARRY made something of a speech in support of his resolution. He believed that the Charter as it was in 1852 was as good an instrument of the kind as could be had. The amendments which have been made to it were "sprung" upon the people by cliques at Madison, and without them the Charter was a good one. He thought furthermore that the Convention should not adjourn, until there was some understanding with the committee as to what amendments they were going to make. The committee should understand the sense of the Convention, the gentleman believed. They might go and get up a Charter which would not be satisfactory to the Convention, they might, instead of improving, give us a worse Charter than the present one.—The gentleman continued in this vein for some time.

Mr. TAYLOR said he was at a loss to know what the gentleman from the Third Ward was "driving at." The amendments, or some of them at least, are good enough and proper. When the committee shall have revised the Charter and the amendments thereto, it will be brought before the Convention, section by section, subject to amendment.

Mr. STEEVER thought that by the nature of the law, under which the Convention is organized, they are bound not only to revise, codify and amend the City Charter alone, but the Charter and all the amendments thereto. The Charter of 1852 would not be at all applicable for 1858. It would be like taking a suit of clothes which fitted a boy in 1852, and requiring him to wear them at this time, when the youth had grown to manhood. The Committee, Mr. STEEVER believed, were as capable and as well prepared to go immediately to work as if weeks were spent in Convention beforehand. He intended to take no step without first consulting his colleagues, and the other members of the committee would no doubt do likewise. Mr. MCGARRY then offered to modify his resolution by resolving to go into committee of the whole in order to discuss the plan to be pursued by the committee. Dr. HUERSCHMANN considered the motion premature. If the committee had made a report, or a portion of a report, then there might be some reason in going into a committee of the whole; otherwise it would be only a loss of time to do so.

Mr. MCGARRY said if it was the design of the gentlemen to "choke down free" discussion, then he would offer no objections.

Dr. HUERSCHMANN said he would be pleased to have all the discussion that was possible, and that he was not in favor of adjourning so soon. Let the discussion be upon motions, but the Convention has nothing to act upon in committee of the whole at the present time said he.

Mr. MCGARRY'S motion was then put to a vote, and lost by nineteen to three.

Mr. STEEVER'S motion, after some further discussion was carried, when the Convention adjourned to meet at the call of the President when the committee is ready to report.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.—We were gladly disappointed, yesterday morning, in finding only two offenders arraigned before the Police Court. It may be safely said that so orderly a celebration never came off in our city, as that of Tuesday evening, in honor of the success of the Atlantic Telegraph. The enthusiasm was such as we have never before witnessed, and so large a concourse of people, upon no previous occasion, ever thronged our streets, and yet there was not a disorderly act committed. The police kept a close watch, but they could detect no impropriety whatever. The cases in the Police Court were, Thomas Donovan, intoxicated, fined $1 and George Webber, fast driving on the street, fined $5.

ELECTION.—The Alliance Ins. Co. have elected the following Officers:

ROB'T P. CADY, President.
MITCHELL STEEVER, Vice President.
I. P. ROGERS, Secretary.
WM. A. NOYES, Treasurer.
S. B. BENNETT, Local Agent.

Terrible Accident.

BOAT CAPSIZED AND THREE LIVES LOST.—The Racine News of yesterday says, from a passenger on board the steamer Traveller, which came in here about eleven o'clock A. M., we learn that when about eight miles this side of Milwaukee, a small boat was discovered bottom up, and a number of persons clinging to it. Measures were immediately taken for their relief, and six of the boat's crew were rescued. From them it was ascertained that the boat belonged to Milwaukee, which place it left last evening with a crew of eight persons, on a fishing trip. About twelve o'clock M., it was capsized by a sudden gust of wind. Two of the crew almost immediately sunk, and the balance succeeded in reaching the boat, to which they clung until rescued, having been in the water nearly twelve hours. They were all alive when taken aboard the Traveller—one or two only, being able to stand—but one died from exhaustion before the boat reached this city. The others will in all probability recover. They were all residents of Milwaukee.

ANOTHER FIRE!—About half-past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded for the Seventh Ward. The wind was blowing strongly at the time, and the whole city was in an uproar in about three minutes. The fire was discovered to be in the carpenter and joiner's shop of Mr. GEO. SOUTHWELL, near the corner of Biddle and Milwaukee streets. The want of water prevented the Fire Department from rendering efficient services in extinguishing the flames. They succeeded, however, in confining the fire to the building in which it originated, and a small barn adjoining.

The loss will not probably be less than $2,000, and the property is uninsured. The fire was said to be the work of an incendiary, but we were informed that a short time before the fire was discovered, several of the workmen were seen smoking in the shop, which was full of shavings. They went away and closed it up, and shortly afterwards the fire broke out, and it is more than probable that this is the way in which it originated.

MISS ELCISE BRIDGES' READINGS.—A press of other matter prevented us from saying a word about Miss BRIDGES' readings in yesterday's paper, and as the lady in question deserves the highest praise we can bestow upon her, we cannot justly omit to mention the delight which her entertainments afforded those of our citizens who were fortunate enough to attend them.

Miss BRIDGES is a young lady of great talent, and unusually attractive personal appearance.—Her readings were of the highest dramatic order, and the fair reader won the unqualified admiration of all who heard her.

In some characters, she is, we believe without an equal. Her reading of "Hiawatha," was singularly beautiful, and her representation of "Widow Bedott" was as true as nature. She read extracts from most of the popular modern poets, and indeed all were rendered in a manner which almost precludes comparison. Miss BRIDGES is entirely without an equal, of her age, as a dramatic reader, and she bids fair ere long to occupy a position second to none in the country.

THE BEST CIRCUS TRAVELLING.—Messrs. SPALDING & ROGERS' New Orleans Circus Troupe gave their last exhibition in our city last evening.—The large tent was well filled, and if we may judge from the manner in which the performances were received, we can safely say that all were delighted with the entertainment. From all those who have attended we have heard but one expression, and that was that SPALDING & ROGERS' Circus was the best upon the whole, that ever visited Milwaukee. This is also our own opinion, notwithstanding our natural antipathy to "Southern institutions."

The Circus goes from this city to Racine, and we can assure the citizens of that place that they will not often have an opportunity of witnessing the performances of so talented a troupe of actors. The managing agents, too, are as courteous gentlemen as ever paid a printer's bill.

THE FIRE TUESDAY NIGHT.—In speaking of the fire at Mr. J. S. Brown's, on Tuesday night, we said that it was probably accidental. There is good reason to believe, however, that it was the work of an incendiary, as the house had been fired a few days previous.

We were also in error, in giving No. 1 the credit of the first stream on the fire. It was No. 2, which, taking suction in the cistern of Mr. J. H. TWEEDY, first dampened the flames.

The damage done amounted to not less than $3000, about equally divided between the occupants of both houses, which however we learn was covered by insurance.

NECESSITY OF CISTERNS.—If we cannot have Water-Works in our city, we must have cisterns. The fire yesterday, as previous fires, in the same neighborhood have done, demonstrated that fact. But for the cistern at the Cathedral—which has saved so many buildings—much more damage would have been done. A very small expenditure will provide the city with all the cisterns that are needed. Shall this be withheld?

THE CELEBRATION.—In our report of the Atlantic Telegraph celebration, the types made us give to the 24th place in the procession to the "Teams," instead of the Turners, who were out in full force, and made a fine appearance. We also neglected to mention the building which is said to have been the most magnificently illuminated of any in the city, the mammoth Furniture establishment of Messrs. SEAMAN & WING, on Huron street.

MEETING OF THE ASSESSORS.—The Assessors of this city met at the Common Council chamber yesterday morning, where they will continue in session until the 28th inst., daily, from 9 to 12 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of hearing objections of parties feeling themselves aggrieved by unjust or erroneous assessments. The official notice of the City Clerk to this effect will be found in another column.

ANOTHER PROMENADE CONCERT.—The Musical Society give another Grand Promenade Concert, at MEUMS' Garden, to day. Two of the best Brass Bands in the city will be in attendance, and the Male Chorus of the Society will perform some of their selected pieces. Members are admitted free, after paying their dues. Omnibuses will be in attendance on Market Square. A good time may be expected.

KEROSENE OIL.—We are indebted to Messrs. J. P. & F. S. ISELEY for an opportunity of testing this Oil, and find that it gives a clear and brilliant light. The cost of the Kerosene Oil is at least one half cheaper than Burning Fluid, and, in the same size lamp, gives a much better light. Another desideratum in its favor is its non-explosive qualities—the manufacturers confidently asserting that it is impossible for it to explode or be suddenly inflamed.

A RIVAL TO FABER'S PENCILS.—Every business house which is compelled to use pencils in large numbers, has felt the need of a pencil less expensive than Faber's. PERRY & CO., have a variety made by Rhebach, which for Railroad offices and Counting Rooms, are full as serviceable as Faber's, and can be afforded at 35 per cent less. They are worth a trial.

THE GIFT BOOK SALE will close at 198 East Water street, the 30th of August. Go soon if you want valuable gifts worth from $1 to $1,50, or can have an extra book instead of a gift, making two for $1,25. The books are all new and perfect. aug19h93d10t.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—A two-fold complaint is seldom made. The cows from the city destroy my trees, which I have taken great pains to plant and have them grow up according to nature's decrees. In regard to the cows, I will exercise all degree of forbearance, because they are dumb, and know not what they do. But a two-legged creature who will, without any good reason, go over my fence at mid-night and cut off all the roses, and flowers, &c., in my yard, is all uncalled for. Any one who is in want of flowers for themselves, or their friends, will only let us know it, we will take great pleasure in letting them have any we have. We have plenty of flowers, and we would prefer, if it would be acceptable, to those who want them, to cut them ourselves. We give all away without any charge. C. WALL.

FURNITURE SALE.—A sale of Furniture takes place this morning, at 10 o'clock, at CALEB WALL'S Auction Room.

MONEY TO LOAN.—We have a few thousand dollars to be invested for two or three years, on mortgages. D. P. HELL, & Co.

MR MARCY'S CORNS.—The late Administration and the "Electric Oil."—Some say the Administration have "gone down"—even some editors (the oracles of public opinion) pertinaciously assert it. Prof. Chas. De Grath never asked an editor for a favorable opinion All respectable Doctors consider it altogether infra dig to advertise in a paper, yet they are very glad to be noticed by the editor of a respectable journal—provided it cost him nothing. Now, this obsolete idea is fast decaying. If a man, in whatever position, makes a discovery, he is coming out LARGELY IN ENGLISH. If this treads on any body's corns they can be relieved very soon at Scott & Co.'s drug store Just to see the crowd come for it, and to hear the exultation of the relieved—some with painful swellings reduced, and limbered joints; others relieved of Neuralgia in half an hour. But all cases are not alike. Some require a little longer time than others. —Washington Union.

The Congressional Canvass.

Our Republican Conventions, to nominate candidates for Congress, are close at hand, and it behooves the friends of the good cause to see that their views and wishes are properly represented in the selection of Delegates. Wisconsin, in the next, as in the present Congress, ought to present an unbroken front and united vote. The course of the Buchanan Administration has more than realized all the evil that was predicted of it by the Republican press. It has been, beyond all question, the most corrupt, the most extravagant and the most discreditable of any that our country has yet seen. Its distinguishing feature has been utter and shameless subserviency to Southern dictation. Originally very "weak at the knees," as Senator BIGLER said, it has fairly given way under the terrors of "the Southern thunder." Having failed in the original design to force slavery upon Kansas, this "National Democratic" Administration now proposes to keep Kansas out of the Union, by way of punishment for her repudiation of the Buch nan-English swindle. And as the Lecompton Villainy was made the test and touchstone of Democratic Orthodoxy in the last Congress, so will this iniquitous scheme be adopted as a party measure in the next.

Shall WISCONSIN stand by, idle or indifferent, when a question of this nature engrosses public attention? Shall she speak in uncertain tones, or give a decided vote, when Kansas demands admission into the American Union as a Free State? Shall she give aid and comfort to an Administration which has beggared the Treasury; added already twenty millions to the National debt; labored for the extension of Slavery; proscribed all those of its own party who refused to take the Lecompton test; pursued a course of systematic injustice to the West; and disposed of the Federal patronage, not for the public good, but for party or personal advantage?—These are questions which the electors of Wisconsin must answer at the polls next November. The Administration is on trial before the Grand Inquest of the Nation, and the verdict is to be rendered in the choice of Representatives. Let not our voice be so doubtful, our vote so divided, that WISCONSIN can be set down as assenting to, if not abetting, the doctrines and doings of the BUCHANAN Administration.

The Meeting at Columbus.

The News, which assumes to speak, not only for Milwaukee, but for the rest of the State, falsely represents that the meeting at Columbus, in reference to the La Crosse R. R. and the Land Grant, was a political one, and takes it upon itself to add, that the resolutions adopted did not express the sentiments of the people of that place. No doubt the News will say the same of the Portage meeting, and it intimates, moreover, that the Madison Argus and Badger State—both unquestioned "democratic" organs, and zealous in their support of the Governor—do not faithfully reflect the sentiment of their respective localities.

In the same connection, the News speaks of Gov. RANDALL as a "corrupt scamp," and attributes his election to the "Sentinel clique," whom it charges with "every species of fraud, falsehood and vituperation," in the effort to bring about this result. The reckless blackguardism and persistent vilification of the News are the best compliment that could be paid to the Integrity of Gov. RANDALL, and to the good service rendered by the Sentinel in contributing to his election.

CHESS MATCH BETWEEN MESSRS. MORPHY AND LOWENTHAL.—The London Illustrated News of July 31st says, "at the time of our going to press the score in this match was as follows:—1st game drawn; 2d won by Morphy; 3d won by Morphy; 4th won by Morphy; 5th won by Lowenthal; 6th won by Morphy. Total—Morphy 4; Lowenthal 1; drawn 1."

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR.—A. P. LINE, Harrisville, Sheriff of Marquette county, vice H. A. CROCKER, resigned.

ARCHIBALD NICHOLS, Mackford, Treasurer of Green Lake county.

☞ According to the recent census, Iowa City, Iowa, contains a population of 8,161. Including the suburbs, the Republican is of opinion they would number nearly 10,000.

Does Milwaukee Approve of Randall's Course?

The Sentinel has at length spoken for Milwaukee. It announces that the people of Milwaukee will sustain Randall in his efforts to deprive the La Crosse Company of the Land Grant, and give it to some Chicago Company. This is Randall's design, and those who sustain him are fully apprised of it. But outside the Sentinel clique, which numbers about five individuals, there is not a man in this city who approves of Randall's course. Although it is nothing new for that clique to arrogate to itself the right and authority which the Sentinel assumes in this instance of speaking for the city.—News, of yesterday.

It is hardly necessary to say that the above characteristic paragraph misrepresents alike the language of the Sentinel, the course of Governor RANDALL, and the public opinion of Milwaukee. The Sentinel has never assumed to speak for Milwaukee. We leave such assumptions to our self-sufficient friend of the News. Governor RANDALL never entertained the idea, and would assuredly oppose the design, of depriving the La Crosse Railroad Company of the Land Grant and give it to some Chicago Company. This is a weak invention of the News and too silly, even, to be laughed at. The People of Milwaukee, "outside of the News' clique, which numbers about one individual," deprecate the course pursued by that journal, as injurious to the interests of our City and State, and unjust to the Governor. Its effect is already plainly visible in the almost unanimous expression of the Wisconsin press.

Wisconsin Currency.

Some of the Chicago brokers have commenced a crusade against Wisconsin currency, and we take the following articles on the subject from the Chicago Journal:

WISCONSIN MONEY DISCONTINUED.—George Smith & Co., H. A. Tucker & Co., J. H. Burch & Co., B. F. Carocr, D. K. Hall, and Hoffman & Gelpecke have discontinued the notes of the following Wisconsin Banks:

Arctic Bank, Eagle Point; Bank of Eau Claire, Eau Claire; Bank of La Pointe, La Pointe; Bank of Manitowoc, Manitowoc; Bank of Mineka, Gordon; Bank of North America, Superior City; Bank of Oconto, Oconto; Clark Co. Bank, O'Neilsville; Chippewa Bank, Pekin, Dunn Co; Laborers Bank, Elisive; Lumberman's Bank, Centerville; Manitowoc Co. Bank, Two Rivers; Marathon Co. Bank, Eagle River; Mercantile Bank, Beaver Dam; Northern Wisconsin Bank, Aurora; Oakwood Bank, North Pepin; Oconto Co. Bank, La Porte; Oneida Bank, City of Berlin; Shawnee Bank, Shawnee; State Security Bank, Gwenencon; State Stock Bank, Eau Claire; St. Croix River Bank, Brickerhoff; St. Croix Valley Bank, St. Croix Falls; Tradesman's Bank, Eagle Lake; Waupaca Bank, Waupaca; Wisconsin Valley Bank, Millville; Wisconsin Pinery Bank, Steven's Point.

THE RAILROADS WILL RECEIVE WISCONSIN MONEY.—The undersigned on account of their respective Roads, agree to receive the bills of Banks advertised in the morning's papers as par for freight, tickets, or any other dues:

Geo. Ackerman, Local Treasurer, Ill. Central Railroad.
Geo. M. GRAY, Mississippi & New Orleans Indiana Railroad,
D. M. BOSS, Pitsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad.
H. G. Spaulding, Michigan Central Railroad
Wm. Smith, Freight Agent, Michigan Central Railroad,
Geo. P. Lee, Assistant Treasurer, Chicago, St. Paul & Fond du Lac Rail Railroad.

Lack of time for this evening's paper, has prevented several Roads from being called upon.

WISCONSIN MONEY AT PAR.—Mr. McVICKER informs us that he shall sell all tickets that shall be wanted for his Theatre, for Wisconsin money, notwithstanding the attempt to create a panic against that species of currency.

MCVICKER and the Rail Roads are sound.—The bills thrown out by the Chicago brokers are quite as good as any Illinois money, and much better than most of it. The following proceedings on the subject were had at Madison.

BANKERS MEETING.—At a meeting held this 17th day of August, 1858, at the Bank Comptroller's office, Madison, of those interested in the Banks of Wisconsin, M. D. Miller, President of Wisconsin Bank, was called to the chair, and Jno. Wright was appointed Secretary.

The following banks were represented by their officers or owners:

State Bank; Dane Co. Bank; Bank of the Capitol; Wisconsin Bank, of Madison; Tradesman's Bank; Lumbermen's Bank; Clark County Bank; Northern Wisconsin Bank; Shawano Bank; State Stock Bank; Oconto County Bank; St. Croix River Bank; Marathon County Bank; and the following by their Attorneys:

Arctic, Chippewa, Mercantile, North-Western, Oakwood, Laborers, and Wisconsin Pinery.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resolved, That we will receive as currency, at par, the notes of such Wisconsin Banks as will redeem their circulation either at Madison or Milwaukee, in New York exchange, at ¼ of one per cent. less than the current selling rate of exchange at such places.

Resolved, That notice be given to all Banks located at inaccessible points for redemption—That the notes of such Banks as refuse to comply with the foregoing arrangement will be assorted for convertible purposes.

N. B. Van Slyke, of Dane County Bank, Sam'l Marshall, of the State Bank, and J. M. Dickinson, of the Bank of the Capitol, were appointed a committee to notify the Banks of the passage of the above resolutions.

M. D. MILLER, Ch'n.
JNO. WRIGHT, Sec'y.

From the Leavenworth Times, Aug. 6.

Kansas Makes Answer—Her Voice is for Freedom.

When the heart is full, words become feeble; the hour is then for feeling. We gave up to it; and we revel and shout and hurray. Amid bonfires, illuminations and the roar of cannon, only, can we find vent for, or give expression to the common joy.

Kansas makes answer for herself!

To those timid and doubting friends who feared lest her freedom might falter, we say, hear their voice on the second day of August. It is simple and majestic. It is pure and mighty.—Worn out and worn down by years of oppression and of struggle, exhausted by Conventions and elections thereafter; poor and tempted; yet, as it conscious of the dignity of the great issue and of its greater consequences, see them, as like self-sacrificing patriots they poured out and maintained their integrity, with the full strength of American manhood?

To the people, whose eyes are fixed on Kansas in hope and with prayer, she points to her vote, and bids them, bids all, the trustful as well as the timid, the courageous as well as the doubting, to work on and work ever for justice and for right. Her freemen did their duty.—The odds were against them. A sister State near by, the whole river interest, the forts and their armed men, all the power and patronage of Government, were against them. Besides, you, their friends, were afar off, unable to help them in their darkest hour of trial and of need. Yet the met your and their foe, and mastered him, against all those odds, and on the second day of August clutched and killed the last act of despotism.

Now their hope and their prayer is for and with you, Freemen of the States, who have thus treated the Freemen of Kansas. The battle is not yet over. The Constitution is beleaguered by bad men and administered by the Slave Power against the decision of the fathers, and contrary to justice; the Judicial, and all its departments, are for a sss and a base sectional interest—for monopolists who crush the poor white man into the dust, and seek to rob the nation of its dearest rights, and liberty of its most sacred guards. Imitate the example of the Freemen of Kansas. Stand by and stand up, as they have done, for principle. Seize the Constitution of the land, through the ballot, and put and keep it on the side of liberty, and rend the power which has perverted and made it the defender of tyranny—the practical upholder of a doctrine held to be infamous in 1776, and felt to be degrading as well as infamous now—that, under it, man may hold property in man.

For despotism the Freemen of Kansas have only one word. Remember the 2d day of August, 1858. And we have in the past, so will we in the future, stand by Freemen, Free Soil and Free Labor, with the fidelity which no opposition can shake, an integrity which no power can buy, a courage which no foe can daunt or defeat.

PRESIDENT BUCHANAN'S WHISKY PROBABLY MIS-SENT.—During the latter part of week before last, Mr. William Montgomery, father of Hon. William Montgomery, was found dead beside a hay-stack near the Virginia line. It is not positively known in what manner he came to his death, but from the fact of two whisky bottles being found near the body, it is presumed he killed himself by the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. He had procured a quantity of liquor at Triadelphia, Virginia, a day or two previously. It is not known how long he had been dead before his body was discovered. His remains were interred in a graveyard in Washington. The age of the deceased was about seventy years.—Wheeling Intelligencer, Aug. 13.

How Kansas is to be Punished.

The following article from the Washington Union, the central organ of the Democracy and the especial exponent of the views of the Administration, shows what is in store for Kansas, by way of punishment for her recent vote in favor of Free Soil and Free Institutions. What a precious humbug this modern Democracy is!

Upon recurring to the causes which have led to this result in Kansas, no one can fail to see that the proposition of the English bill submitted to the people has been rejected on account of their unwillingness to take upon themselves the burden of sustaining a State government.—Such was the argument of the opponents of admission both in the press and on the stump.—The vexed question of slavery had little or nothing to do with the decision, and it is for this reason that we express with so much confidence the conviction that "bleeding Kansas" can no longer be paraded on the political boards as a mode of reproducing the bitter sectional controversy which has so long distracted the country. The opportunity has now been afforded to the people of Kansas to come into the sisterhood of states clothed with all the sovereignty which attaches to the States of the Union.

If she had accepted the terms offered to her, she would have received all the favors, benefits and advantages which other new States have received from the general Government. Into her own hands would have been transferred the sole, exclusive, and sovereign power of regulating her own domestic institutions. The constitution under which she would have been admitted would have been subject to the control of her own people, to be altered, amended, or modified at their pleasure. In a word, Kansas would have been what every State in the Union now is—a free, sovereign, and independent State, controlled alone in her action by the principles and requirements of that constitution which is alike the bond of our union and the safeguard of our rights.

She has seen proper to reject this offer. After all the contests which have wasted the energies of her people and scattered firebrands throughout the Union, we now have her solemn decision that she prefer a territorial to a State government. Judging from the a guments most successfully used in the canvass which has just terminated, that decision was made upon the deliberate conviction that the people of Kansas were either unable or unwilling to undertake the support of a state government. Of this fact none were so competent as the people of Kansas.

Their decision is now made, and let it be carried out. We doubt not it will be better in the end for Kansas that she should remain in her territorial state until she has acquired the population required by the English bill for her admission than that there should be renewed in her borders that fierce and bitter controversy which has so long broken her peace and paralyzed her energies.

If her people had been content to assume the burdens and responsibilities of a state government, it would have been a more preferable, because a more final settlement of the question.—It would have more effectually closed the doors against the efforts which are now being made by reckless politicians to stir into a new flame the embers which have almost died out. Though strongly impressed with the conviction that such would have been the better policy of Kansas, yet we cheerfully concede to the people there the right to decide the question for themselves, and, having decided it, we hold it to be the duty of all good citizens to acquiesce in and carry out that decision.

Another of the Follies of Protection.

The other day our government asked of the capitalists of the country to lend it $10,000,000 at 5 per cent. When the proposals came to be opened yesterday, it was found that over thirty millions of dollars were offered with premiums for the privilege, ranging from one and a half to seven and three one-hundredths per cent., thus netting to the lenders an average interest of less than five per cent.

At the same time that these thirty millions go to Washington for employment at such rates and twenty millions of the sum come back without finding investment, money is in demand in nearly all the western states at from ten to fifteen per cent. State bonds, municipal bonds, mortgages upon lands worth three and five times the loan, all can be purchased at a rate yielding over twelve per cent.

Why is this? Why does the western trader and merchant have to pay three, four, and five times as much for money as Mr. Secretary Cobb, or even as a first-class mercantile house in New York, where it is extremely difficult to invest any money on good security, that will net six per cent.? Why does a day's ride upon the railroad take a New Yorker into a region where money, the most portable of all commodities, is the only one which costs several times as much as it does at at home.

The reason, and the only reason is that the Western States are continually interfering in the contracts between the borrower and the lender; they pass laws which disable the lender from collecting his money from an unwilling borrower; they compel him, if he lends on a mortgage and forecloses, to buy in the property at two-thirds of its value if it should not bring that sum in the market; they compel him to wait a year, more or less, to enforce an execution or to get a title to the property sold by the law for the payment of his debt. All such laws, if made after a contract, are in violation of its provisions and wrong the lender; if before, they are oppressive to the borrower, for they impair the value of the security he has to offer to capitalists, and, of course, compel him to make up the difference in premium. The cost of money will always be proportioned to the risk supposed to be taken, and if the capitalist has to lend under laws which do not respect contracts, which do not leave men of mature years and of a sound mind to enter into such agreements as they please, he will of course charge more for his money than he would in a State which did not meddle with the contracts of business men, except to enforce them promptly.

These propositions seem almost too trite for discussion, and yet it is impossible to suppose that they are comprehended at the West, where every kind of business is suspended for the want of a little money, while millions upon millions are lying idle within a day's journey. The people of the West certainly cannot realize the folly of their financial legislation, or they would abandon it; and yet one would suppose that they would open their eyes to it when they find federal securities chased after at a little over four per cent, while their own state bonds go begging over the world at twelve and fifteen.

It is mortifying to look just across our border and find the Grand Trunk Railroad borrowing large sums in London at five per cent., and without an effort, while there is not a western state bond, to say nothing of a lower kind of security, corporate or private that could be negotiated for twice that sum in London or anywhere else. The reason is that the English people are brought up to believe that they are able to make their own bargains better than any one else can make them, and all they expect or will permit the government to do with them is to enforce them. This respect of the British government for the rights of the people in this one particular, more than doubles the value of their property, for it enables them to pay for more than twice as large a tract of land as they could buy in Illinois or Missouri, for the same amount of interest money.

The daily communication between the United States and Europe will soon bring all the surplus capital of the Old World, now netting to the lender barely three per cent, to our market.—All that will be required to have the use of the capital, in other words, to equalize the value of money on both sides of the Atlantic, will be, to furnish equally good security. Let every stop law and stay law in the States be at once repealed; let the laws for the enforcement of contracts be adapted in good faith to that end, and provide a more vigorous penal code for the punishment of official frauds upon the creditors of corporate bodies. Did no necessity exist for these reforms, who can doubt that there would be at least one hundred millions more of money invested in the West than there is at this moment. The protective system which has been adopted there has made no man richer, while it has driven capital away from its borders; it has impaired the credit of its people, and has compelled them to pay three times as much as would be otherwise necessary, for money.

We ask our western friends whether they are not satisfied by this time that legislation for the relief of debtors at the expense of the creditors is bad economy; that honesty is the best policy as well as the best morality. If so, why not set to work to purge their characters and their statute books of every trace of that suicidal policy which has given them a worse name, in the money markets of the world, than is borne by the debtors of Mexico and Brazil.—N. Y. Evening Post.

STRAWS FOR SUCKING JULEPS.—Nearly all the drinking houses in St. Louis are furnished with straws for sucking juleps, by one man, who sells them for one and a half to two dollars a thousand; from about two acres of land, on which he grows rye annually, he sells about twenty-four hundred dollars worth of straws. They are packed in barrels containing 12,000 straws, and shipped to New Orleans, St. Paul and intermediate places, and the demand is increasing.

PRONUNCIATION.—Sheridan agreed with Walker about the word wind—pronouncing it wynd; but differed from him in respect to gold, which he would pronounce goold. Sheridan tells that Swift would jeer those who pronounced wind with a short i, by saying, "I have a great mind to find why you pronounce it wind'd." An illiberal critic retorted this upon Sheridan, by saying—"if I may be so bold, I should be glad to be told who you pronounce it goold."

Correspondence of the N. Y. Evening Post.

Voyage from Buffalo to Milwaukee.

I left Buffalo on the evening of July 24, in the A No. 2 propeller Mendota, of 600 tons, now half loaded. The transition from side-wheel steamers to those now vastly improved propellers, or scullers, is perhaps the greatest improvement in nautical economy of this improving age. In 15 hours, with the mainsail in the brails, we reached Cleveland, a distance of 180 miles; here we took on nails and glass, Western Reserve cheese, a large lo. of cast-iron pipe for the Milwaukee Custom-house, lots of Buckeye passengers, and 50 tons of soft coal, bought at $3 a ton, to be used only when wood could not be had.

I now had to vacate the state-room for a berth abaft, as the high faces on the western railroads send lots of female passengers to the propellers, and their right of apartment and possession is indisputable. We left slowly up Detroit river early next morning against a strong current, with a fine view of the flat country on either shore. Took on thirty cords of hard wood at Detroit; a cord lasts us a little over an hour with thirty-two inches of steam—forty inches would give us a mile more speed, but it takes too much fuel for profit when freights are cheap. On Lake Huron, next day more than twenty sail-craft and propellers were in sight through the day. Took a top-gallant breeze as we left Saginaw bay, and carried all sail, which kept us steady and increased our speed to twelve knots. Got to Mackinac before dark; a fishy place, with a United States fort and barracks full of lazy soldiers, reposing on their laurels at the expense of that lucky borrower, Uncle Sam! Took on here 100 p cks of white fish, and four invalid ladies, with their two male friends.

Next morning the high lands of Michigan and the Fox Islands, with their bald high lands, were in sight on either side, and the Manitous in the distance. Held up at the South Manitou to wood—a fine, bold looking island, with a poor soil of light-colored gravel and very coarse sand; but, strange as it may seem, it is well timbered with hard, deciduous trees, and but few evergreens; the corn here looked green, but it stood only three feet high in full bloom; potatoes were the main crop, and it is said that they are diseaseless, and very superior in richness and flavor. The transparency of the lake water here is most remarkable; the white pebbly bottom may be seen, as through a pane of glass, at a depth of twelve feet. Fishing with gill-nets is the principal business here, but all the offal is wasted when the potato fields along the shore here are crying aloud for it. Took on thirty cords of good hard wood at $2 a cord, and plenty of lake trout to salt for restocs to last until the return of the boat. We now pass the sleeping bear, as he reposes on the barren sandhill on a headland on the Michigan shore, and take our course by compass for Manitowoc. Wisconsin. Our invalid ladies now made a muss in the ladies' cabin; feeble as they were, they could not feel that those noisy, unquiet, ever-mischievous children were of the kingdom of heaven," as their own mothers did; hence a muss which the active steward could not quell, and our quiet but ever vigilant little captain was appealed to; he prescribed forbearance and mutual concession; but a power greater than he soon came, in the form of a heavy thunder storm, with zig-zag lightning preceding each peal closely; all hickenings now were hushed, and every discomfort was forgotten.

Got to Manitowoc, a pine lumber town early in the evening; after leaving freight we ran to Sheboygan, where, after leaving both freight and some passengers, we left late at night for Milwaukee, with a southeast wind. Sail-vessels next morning were laying their course for Milwaukee bay, but our captain did not call up his tried men to haul up the mainsail out of the sails, as we were going on eleven miles without it; but the rolling swell, small as it was, now saved the steward and his supernumeraries from supplying and waiting on the second table this morning. Arrived at half-past seven o'clock. Our captain said Milwaukee harbor was now the Jewel of the Lakes. In less than ten minutes after passing the little lighthouse now translated to the end of the north breakwater, our 700-ton craft was in eighteen feet water alongside of a mammoth warehouse, at the junction of the two rivers—Milwaukee and Menomonee; and the outer harbor—is so protected by the projecting points north and south, that it is safe from all gales save the pitiless northeaster. But the outside piers, where transient vessels used to land their freight and passengers, are now done away forever; and every craft enters the river by a new cut, which is deep, broad and well defended from without.

Now, before a passenger could land, or a hackman come on board, our Milwaukee freight, over one hundred tons, was going on shore, in the shape of hogsheads of sugar, tea, coffee, &c., from New York; manufactured articles from Buffalo and Cleveland, and fish from Mackinac. Great improvements have been made, and many large blocks of stores and costly munitions buildings have been built since I was here two years ago; and although this is the dullest season of the year, such is the impetus that the new extended railroads has given to trade, that the late revulsion, which for a time, it is said, brought every one here up all standing, new exercises only that chastening influence on the trade of this place necessary to restrain an over-enterprising people. The jobbing business has greatly increased, and it is said that not a single wholesale grocer failed during the late revulsion; orders from the country dealers are now small but constant, and payment is prompt, or on very short time. There are a great many elegantly elaborated mansions here, and what is better, there is little jamming up of costly fronts into serried blocks—a great improvement on eastern bad taste in the premises. Dear as lots are, every house here of any pretension has its surroundings of trees and flowery shrubs, as if to compensate for its sometimes exaggerated mechanical embellishments of cast-iron, carved wood or stone. The new Custom House is a magnificent, chaste and elegant structure, of white Magnesian limestone; the Newhall Palaces and some other buildings, also, are of this superb stone, which, when finely cut, is richer, more subdued, and less affected by exposure to atmospheric influence than marble.

But costly mansions and sixty thousand dollar school houses, with their chandeliers and Brussells carpets, are not now in the order of the day. Yet I have seen no place in the last year where so many new and serviceable tenements were in the progress of erection as here. In New York building is more subservated by the facility of obtaining money by mortgaging the fee simple; but here, where money is not, the stimulus to build now is the high rents and the very great depreciation in the price of brick, lumber and labor, and the ease with which terms are made with the aid of very little money. But in proof that the late monetary revulsion is doing its blessed work, there is less crinoline and flowing silk on the sidewalks now, and less rolling through the streets in costly equipages, than there was two years ago. A great drawback, however, on the thrift of the great West is the enormous railroad charges. It costs twelve cents to bring a bushel of wheat two hundred miles, when last same wheat is taken over a thousand miles on a $50,000 propeller for only four cents. Lumber now sells here for six dollars the thousand feet, yet the farmer who lives seventy miles in the interior must pay three and a half dollars per thousand freight on the same, before he can shelter his stock of fence his prairie. True, the railroads have been constructed by costly borrowings, amid great waste and dishonesty, but by what rule of ethics should the whole West be victimized to make up the loss? But low rents, low railroad charges, and Christian municipal taxation, must soon correspond to other value and the West will prosper.

Milwaukee, August 21, 1858.

THE FIGHT AT MARIPOSA.—The Mercer Mining Company attempted, in July, to prevent the quartz mining operations of Col. Fremont, who now resides with his family, attending to the interests in his great claims, in Bear Valley, Mariposa County. They besieged a party of the Colonel's in a quartz mine; and sent a committee coolly demanding of the Colonel that he should close up his mines and abandon his property.—The Colonel replied to the call of the committee:

"I hold the property by law, by long occupation and even by mining regulations. The demand you make upon me is contrary to all my sense of justice and what is due to my own honor. You say that you wish to avert bloodshed. If it comes, the citizens of this county need no assurance from me that it will not be of my provoking. Outrageous and beyond precedent as this attack is, I will confine myself to the right of self-defence which the law gives to citizens who have their lives and property attacked."

The Governor was appealed to, and he wrote to the ringleaders of the mob: "Col. Fremont is entitled to the peaceable possession of his property, and if necessary, force must be used to secure this to him," and called out the militia accordingly. The mob dispersed.

SCRIP RIOT IN IOWA.—OUTBREAK OF THE PEOPLE OF DAVENPORT.—It seems for some time past there has been for some cause a strong feeling exhibited in Davenport against a large amount of "scrip," which has been floating about for some time, said scrip bearing the signatures of Messrs. Burrow & Prettyman, and Cook and Sargeant, eminent merchants of that place.

Our informant, who left Davenport on Friday morning, says that on the previous evening the Germans had assembled en masse and stoned the bank, Burrow & Prettyman's establishment, and also the house of Mr. Cook, dangerously wounding that gentleman's wife.

The military were called out, and when our informant left, a severe conflict was apparently about to ensue.—St. Louis Democrat, Aug. 16.

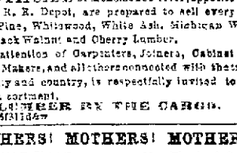
EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY!
MEIGS CASE, M. D.,
OPERATOR UPON THE EYE & EAR.

LECTURES ON THE EYE.

STRABISMUS, or Cross Eye, may be defined to be a want of harmony between the two eyes, which exists when an object seen first does not move with the other, but is turned away involuntarily to the other side.

It is an affection so apparent as scarcely to require explanation, and is a most unpleasant defect, particularly to young people, and never fails to impair the sight more or less.

It consists essentially of a contraction of one of the six muscles which fix the ball as represented in the cut.



The operation is usually performed by me, in a few seconds, and is always entirely successful, both in relieving the deformity and improving the vision to a great degree.

Operations for Cataract, artificial pupil, &c., scientifically and successfully performed.

French artificial eyes inserted without operation or pain, having the appearance and all the motions of the natural eye.

All the recent discoveries and improvements in the diseases and treatment of ocular and aural diseases, will be received to for the restoration and preservation of the most valuable of the senses, sight and hearing.

Persons from a distance will be provided with boarding houses by making application at the office immediately on arriving in the City.

"ONLY A YEAR."
BY MRS. STOWE.

[These tender and beautiful lines, from the pen of Mrs H. B. Stowe, refer, we presume, to the melancholy death by drowning, about a year since, of her son, a young student of fine character and promise.]

One year ago—a ringing voice,
A clear blue eye,
And clustering curls of sunny hair,
Too fair to die.

Only a year—no voice, no smile,
No gleam of eye,
No clustering curls of golden hair,
Fair but to die!

One year ago—what loves, what schemes
Far into life!
What joys, what hopes, what high resolves,
What generous strife!

The silent picture on the wall,
The burial stone—
Of all that beauty, life and joy,
Remain alone!

One year—one year—one little year,
And so much gone!
And yet the even flow of life
Moves calmly on.

The graves grow green, the flowers bloom fair,
Above their head;
No sorrowing fist of leaf or spray
Says he is dead.

No pause or hush of merry birds
That sing above,
Tells us how coldly it keeps below
The form we love.

Where hast thou been this year, beloved?
What hast thou seen?
What visions fair, what glorious life,
Where thou hast been?

The veil! the veil! so thin, so strong!
'Twixt us and thee;
The mystic veil! when shall it fall
That we may see?

Not dead, not sleeping, not even gone;
But present still,
And waiting for the coming hour
Of God's sweet will.

Lord of the living and the dead,
Our Saviour dear,
We lay in silence at thy feet
This sad, sad year!

Andover, July 9, 1858.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH AND THE IMPORT TRADE.—The effect of the Atlantic telegraph on trade is now being discussed in all its pros and cons. We have heard an importer argue that it would be injurious to men of his business, because country traders, he said, would order their goods in smaller quantities than they now do, and importers would give smaller orders to manufacturers; and the manufacturers would be guided in like manner as to the increased or reduced production of their wares; and on all hands a small peddling business would usurp the now existing modes of trade. The same injurious effect, he said, followed the introduction of ocean steamers. Prior to that era the importers gave large orders to manufacturers, calculated for half a year's or a year's consumption; and the traders gave large orders to importers on the same basis; and business was done on a wholesale scale. When the fast steamers came into vogue, the small trade commenced to lay in goods for two or three months only, and the importer was, consequently, restricted in his orders, and the manufacturer in his production.—This is claimed to be a considerable injury to trade, and it is to be presumed that when the time between the order and the delivery of the goods is reduced to one half of what it has been the evil will increase to a proportionate extent.

There is some sense in the argument, mixed, however, with a good deal of fallacy. If business be done henceforth on a smaller scale it will also be done on a safer one. The aggregate amount, however, will be as large. If a trader lays in only a month's stock, he will pay for it in cash or in notes at ten or fifteen days.—It will bring into play the system of "short credit and long friends." Besides, it will have the effect of placing men of small capital on something like an equality with rich and long established firms. The smaller the orders the smaller the risks, and the less capital for the business.—So that, even to importers, the Atlantic telegraph will prove a blessing rather than a curse. N. Y. Herald.

THE ORIGINAL MORGAN HORSE.—Massachusetts has done many good things, among which is giving to Vermont the credit, and the world the benefit, of the celebrated Morgan horse. Near the close of the last century, a singing master, by the name of Justin Morgan, lived in Chicopee street, West Springfield. The place where this man lived has been pointed out to the writer by one who knew him, and remembers his celebrated horse. Mr. Morgan had a few acres of land, and usually kept one or two horses. He cultivated his farm during the summers, and taught music in his own and neighboring towns during the winters. In the spring of 1793 he raised the colt which has given celebrity to his name. Mr. Morgan had a passion for good horses, and this colt, while he remained in West Springfield, was more fully appreciated by his owner than by his fellow townsmen. In those days fifty dollars was considered a great price for a horse, and it is believed that this horse could have been bought for without that sum.

Fortune frowned upon Mr. Morgan, and, seized with the spirit of adventure, about the year 1793 he emigrated with his family and horse to the wilds of Randolph, Vermont. Here he lived a few years, and died poor. Neither he nor his family realized profit from his horse. Such was the foundation of a breed which has given both wealth and character to New England. In this case is forcibly illustrated the influence of an ordinary action. Justin Morgan might or might not have been conscious of the results, when sixty-five years ago he raised that famous colt. The act was simple in itself, but the consequences are momentuous. An impetus was then given to a branch of industry, whose power is not yet fully felt. Wherever the horse is known, there shall she name of Justic Morgan be repeated. The Morgan horse is destined to give as much celebrity to New England as the barb of the desert to Arabia. As a farm and family horse, the "Morgan" is unequalled. Docility, hardihood, endurance, compactness and sure-footedness, are his invariable properties.—Springfield Republican.

MALANCHOLY AFFAIR—A MOTHER HANGS HER DAUGHTER AND THEN COMMITS SUICIDE.—In Pittsfield, Lorain Co., Ohio, on Wednesday last, Mrs. Williams, wife of a wealthy farmer of that vicinity, was found dead, having hanged herself by a strip of sheet tied to the corner of the house. A deaf and dumb daughter some twenty years old, was also found dead, having been, as circumstances disclosed, hung by the mother. Mrs. Williams had made application for a divorce from her husband, who is an intemperate and cruel man, and he had prepared to resist the suit by procuring witnesses to swear to shocking improprieties on her part, which no person believes her guilty of. Under this state of things she withdrew her divorce case, receiving from Williams $40 in money, and a promise for $460 more, and a deed for fifty acres of land for the benefit of the deaf and dumb girl. This deed was drawn but remained in the hands of Williams' lawyer. The belief of the neighbors now is, that Mrs. Williams was the victim of a conspiracy and after she had settled the suit, her agony of mind at the position she was placed in, drove her to the perpetration of the terrible deed. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was that the deaths were produced by the hands of Mrs. Williams. The funeral of the two was on Thursday, and called together an immense concourse of people. Williams was in Brooklyn, near by, when his wife and daughter were hanged, and went home as soon as he learned of their deaths, remaining there to the funeral.

G. SIMMONDS,
SOLE PROPRIETOR AND MANUFACTURER OF
PURE OHIO
Catawba Brandy.
THIS Brandy has been manufactured for several years from pure juice of the Catawba Grape, thus affording additional evidence, of the progress of American enterprise and industry, and of our ability to produce articles at home, equal to those made by any other nation.
The Ohio Catawba Brandy, not only equals but excels the best imported Brandies, in purity and flavor. It is in fact the best Brandy known. This statement is fully corroborated by the certificates of our most distinguished analytical chemists.
The want of pure brandy has long been felt in this country, and the introduction of a article of such quality as to supersede the sale and use of those vile compounds hitherto sold under the name of Brandy, can only be regarded a great public good. The Catawba Brandy possesses all the qualities claimed for the best imported liquors, and is of perfect purity and superior flavor, and a sovereign and sure remedy for
Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Cramp, Colic
Lassitude, Low Spirits, General
Debility, &c.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been long and laboriously prosecuted for the result at present attained, which is known to many. Innumerable roots are shown in these Pills I have written which purport in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they were unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of the organs, purify the blood and expel the disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distempers, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart that healthy tone which is the life of the system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they do it in the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and most physicians can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable are free from all risk of harm. Cures have been made, which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and presidents have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurances of their conviction that my preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow men.
The Agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of numerous complaints.
Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take no others. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sure want the best aid there is for them and they sound have it.
